INTRODUCTION

Every year, the Washington State Charter School Commission (the Commission) produces an Annual Student Academic Performance Report for each charter school it oversees, for use by the school and other stakeholders. The report summarizes the school's academic performance according to the most recent data available for the year in review. The report also provides an overview of the charter school's enrollment demographics for the year reviewed.

PURPOSE OF REPORT

The Washington State Charter School Commission is committed to promoting high-quality education for public school students in Washington. This Annual Performance Report is produced in order to:

- 1 Provide timely information to the charter school on its performance relative to the standards and expectations established by applicable federal and state law and the charter contract.
- 2 Identify the school's strengths and any areas needing improvement.
- 3 Provide information that enables the community and the public to understand the school's performance, including its fulfillment of public obligations.

ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE FRAMEWORK (APF)

The Academic Performance Framework (APF) includes measures that allow the Commission to evaluate charter school academic performance. A charter school that meets the standards in this area is implementing its academic program effectively, and student learning—the central purpose of every school—is taking place.

The APF contains measures that have been grouped according to:

1. STATE AND FEDERAL ACCOUNTABILITY RESULTS answering the question:

Is the charter school meeting performance expectations based on the Washington School Improvement Framework?

2. GEOGRAPHIC COMPARISONS answering the question:

How are charter school students performing compared to the the traditional public schools that students would otherwise attend if they did not attend the charter school?

3. COMPARISON TO SCHOOLS SERVING SIMILAR STUDENTS answering the question:

How are charter school students performing compared to schools serving similar students?

4. SCHOOL-SPECIFIC ACADEMIC GOALS answering the question:

Did the school meet its school specific academic goals?

NOTE: If a school does not have at least one year of SBA data or if more than one of the four indicators is missing, an overall tier rating will not be calculated.

The APF measures "roll-up" to an overall rating.

The overall rating provides clarity to schools about how decisions will be made and which components of performance are most important. Additionally, an overall rating provides a “bright line” regarding charter school performance expectations that ensures consistency in Commission decision-making and supports parents as they navigate their public school options.

STATE & FEDERAL ACCOUNTABILITY

Washington School Improvement Framework

The Washington State Board of Education (SBE) and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) developed the Washington School Improvement Framework to evaluate and track the performance of all schools in the state under Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) requirements. In order to align charter school accountability expectations with the state accountability system, the state’s Framework Score serves as the foundation of the APF, supplemented by additional measures required by WAC 108-30-020(a).

The Washington School Improvement Framework evaluates all students and targeted subgroups on five components: proficiency, growth, EL progress, graduation rates, and School Quality Student Success (SQSS). Each year, the state calculates framework scores for all students and for each student subgroup. Framework scores are based on the most recent three years of student performance results.

STATE ACCOUNTABILITY

1a.1. All Students WA School Improvement Framework Score

Is the charter school meeting performance expectations based on the state accountability system?

E	Exceeds Standard: Charter school receives a subgroup Framework Score of 8, 9 or 10.	D	Does Not Meet Standard: Charter school receives an all student Framework Score of 4 or 5.
M	Meets Standard: Charter school receives an all student Framework Score of 6 or 7.	F	Falls Far Below Standard: Charter school receives an all student Framework Score of 1, 2 or 3.

School response:

Summit Sierra low income students outperformed the state and Seattle in SBAC reading however, underperformed in SBAC math. The campus has implemented a curriculum better aligned to common core standards, teachers attend bi-weekly professional development dedicated to improving math instructional practices, and there is a structured 45 minute math intervention block that occurs 4-days per week during the school day to support struggling students. Tangential to instruction, but extremely connected, Summit Sierra is dedicated to providing students and families with a diverse teaching and leadership faculty. To that end, the recruitment and selection team have supported Summit Sierra in building a diverse faculty. Research supports that students perform better academically and feel more emotionally attached when they have educators from similar backgrounds.

Geographic Comparison: How does charter school performance compare to schools students would otherwise attend?

PROFICIENCY RATE

2a.1. Assigned School Comparison (ASC)

How are charter school students performing on state assessments compared to the traditional public schools that students would otherwise attend if they did not attend the charter school?

The Assigned School Comparison (ASC) is the average of the assigned schools' performance, weighted by the number of charter school students assigned to each school. Assigned schools are identified based on information provided by the charter school. For more information, please refer to the Commission Academic Performance Framework Methodology.

E Exceeds Standard: School proficiency rate is 10 or more percentage points above the Assigned School Comparison average.

D Does Not Meet Standard: School proficiency rate is up to 9 percentage points below the Assigned School Comparison average.

M Meets Standard: School proficiency rate is equal to or up to 9 percentage points above the Assigned School Comparison average.

F Falls Far Below Standard: School proficiency rate is 10 or more percentage points below Assigned School Comparison average.

NOTES: Middle grade students in Washington take the End of Year science assessment in 5th and 8th grade. ASC proficiency rates includes only grades served by the charter school.

School response:

All students met or exceeded performance in math and ELA; however, science performance did not. To address student and teacher needs in science performance, Summit Sierra has implemented the following interventions.

The central academics team has and is doing extensive work to align the curriculum and resources to the Next Generation Science Standards

Science teachers meet bi-weekly in teams to discuss plans, assessments, and instructional practices.

Students participate in more hands-on and project-based units to deepen their knowledge of science content.

School response:

While African American students performed lower than the ASC group, however, performance was on par with African American student performance in Seattle. We also recognize a performance gap among students of 2 or more races and with low income students within the ASC. To address the gaps, the school is taking a 3 step approach.

- 1) Ensure teachers and students understand individual levels at the beginning of the year based on prior data and assessments.
- 2) The data is used to inform which students receive daily interventions.
- 3) Teachers review intervention data and classroom data in teams bi-weekly to progress monitor success of intervention and make adjustments.

The campus has and is making shifts to create more culturally relevant experiences for students as well. For example, establishing affinity groups and developing culturally responsive class projects. Summit Sierra has also worked with the central office analytics team to create equity goals to ensure all students are achieving at high levels. These goals are monitored throughout the school year.

School response:

Summit Sierra strives for 100% of students to graduate high school and earn acceptance to a college or university. The graduation rates for white students, and latinx students, and Asian students are below the met threshold. To address these gaps, over the past year a director of college readiness leads the work in supporting students in being on track to graduate. Also, every student and family has 2 individualized conferences per year with a mentor to review academic, personal and future goals and progress being made on those goals.

Some of our transfer students entered into Summit Sierra missing a large number of credits. Through an individual development plan, there are a small number of students who have committed to graduate in 5 years to become college ready.

The leadership at Summit Sierra understands the importance of attendance on student outcomes and school culture, and have created tiered plans to improve student attendance in both the 2018/19 and 2019/20 school years. Those plans include, but are not limited to: Making daily personal calls home to every student with an unexcused absence, publicly tracking and recognizing positive attendance, including attendance in home-school communications, sending absence letters, and having family meetings.

School response:

Summit Sierra supports a large number of students to enroll and successfully pass dual credit courses. Similarly, every student takes a number of AP courses as well. The goal for both programs is to better prepare students for college academically and financially. The gap in the number of white students and EL students taking dual credit courses as compared to ASC’s is due to a larger number of students taking AP courses. Given the new graduation pathways approved by the state, Summit Sierra will continue to allow students to make an informed decision that is best for their future goals. Summit Sierra supports dual credit enrollment.

COMPARISON TO SCHOOL SERVING SIMILAR STUDENTS

3a. Proficiency Comparison to Schools Serving Similar Students

How are charter school students performing on state assessments compared to schools serving similar students?

Regression analysis is used to compare each school’s actual performance to its predicted performance, based on the enrollment of students eligible for free and reduced-price lunch (FRL) and students with disabilities (SWD). For more information, please refer to the Commission Academic Performance Framework Methodology.

- E

Exceeds Standard: Charter school proficiency rate exceeds expected performance (effect size .30 or greater).
- D

Does Not Meet Standard: Charter school proficiency rate is lower than expected performance (effect size -0.01 to -.29).
- M

Meets Standard: Charter school proficiency rate meets or slightly exceeds expected performance (effect size 0 to .29).
- F

Falls Far Below Standard: Charter school proficiency rate falls far below expected performance (effect size -.30 or less).

School response:

Students from low income households (as measured by FRL) and students with diverse needs (students receiving special services) at Summit Sierra out-performed the state performance in reading among similar groups. However, there is a gap that still exists among those subgroups and other students at Summit Sierra. It is one of Summit Sierra’s annual goals to eradicate the performance gap between subgroups. This data is tracked by the campus and the home office analytics team.

To directly address the gaps, the special education department has added an additional coordinator to support teachers with professional development. The special education department is also partnering with University of Washington to implement additional development for teachers bi-weekly. Lastly, special education teachers and general education teachers are collaborating to implement a more robust multi-tiered support system for students.

3b. Graduation Rate Comparison to Schools Serving Similar Students

How did the charter school high school cohort graduation rate compare to schools serving similar students statewide?

Regression analysis is used to compare each school’s actual performance to its predicted performance, based on the enrollment of students eligible for free and reduced-price lunch (FRL) and students with disabilities (SWD). For more information, please refer to the Commission Academic Performance Framework Methodology.

E	Exceeds Standard: Charter school graduation rate exceeds expected performance (effect size .30 or greater).	D	Does Not Meet Standard: Charter school graduation rate is lower than expected performance (effect size -0.01 to -.29).
M	Meets Standard: Charter school graduation rate meets or slightly exceeds expected performance (effect size 0 to .29).	F	Falls Far Below Standard: Charter school graduation rate falls far below expected performance (effect size -.30 or less).

School response:

Summit Sierra’s graduation rate was 84%. This is 4% lower than the predicted value. Although Summit Sierra strives for a 100% graduation rate each year, we are committed to making adjustments to close the gap. Despite the 4% difference, approximately 98% of all Summit graduates were accepted to a college or university. To address this gap, over the past year a director of college readiness is now leading the work in supporting students in being on track to graduate. Also, every student and family has 2 individualized conferences per year with a mentor to review academic, personal and future goals and progress being made on those goals.

Some of our transfer students enter into Summit Sierra missing a larger number of credits. Through an individual development plan, there are a small number of students who have committed to graduate in 5 years to become college ready.

Summit Sierra has also made a commitment to implement the new graduation pathways well with an emphasis on the AP pathway towards graduation for all students.
